Technical / Tactical

- Strong, powerful wide target man, often cutting inside from the left wing

Psychological

- Passionate and hardworking, willing to track back and cover for teammates defensively

- Uses his physicality to shield the ball and maintain possession during dribbles
- Effective in aerial challenges and set pieces, either as a blocker or on the ball
- Impressive shot power, especially from distance
- Good scoring instincts on tap-ins
- Tends to shoot on sight, which can result in mixed outcomes
- Crossing and left-footed dribbling need improvement
- Shows strong understanding of team dynamics, adapting to different roles as needed

Physical

- He is one of the strongest players in the league, excelling in aerial duels and physical challenges
- Lacks the speed and agility typical of a winger

Social

- Demonstrates strong teamwork and selflessness on the field, willing to pass when he spots a better opportunity for a teammate
- Stays out of trouble when fights occur

Summary

Gabriel Tigrão is a physically imposing player with a commanding presence on the field. As a wide target man, he utilizes his strength effectively in both attacking and defensive phases, particularly excelling in aerial duels and set-piece situations. With impressive shot power and good scoring instincts, he poses a threat in front of goal, though he can sometimes be overly eager to shoot instead of creating better opportunities.

While Gabriel shines in the physical aspects of the game, his left-footed dribbling and crossing abilities require improvement. His agility and speed aren't his strongest suits, limiting his effectiveness as a winger. When fully engaged, he contributes defensively by tracking full-back runs and forcing turnovers with strong tackles, though his defensive work rate can be inconsistent. Nevertheless, his teamwork makes him a versatile asset, particularly in holding up the ball and providing a strong presence during set pieces.

Tigrao's skillset should ensure a long and successful career in the K League, but he may lack the potential to be a difference-maker at a higher level.
